

Guess, who is my Daddy?

Last month I visited the family of one of the students.

During that visit more children appeared from other students. A new game started: Guess, who is my Daddy!

After a while, I was able to identify the right fathers.
Now the holiday started. The fathers are going back to their families.

And I will also go back to my family! I will fly on Friday to Holland! I am looking forward to be with everyone in August and I can't wait to see the child of my brother!

I will be in the International Church Crossroads in Amstelveen on Sunday 18th of Augustus. I would love to meet you there or elsewhere in Holland.
